I had the opportunity to work with Claire Johnston on Mutiny, the film I'm directing with Jason Statham in the lead role. I can only highly recommend her. Claire is competent, responsive, and consistently brings solutions we wouldn't have considered without her input. Her pragmatic proposals have always helped us reduce costs without ever compromising on quality, which is crucial for a project of this scale. I particularly enjoyed collaborating with her and her team, including production designer Russell De Rozario. I look forward to working with Claire again, as I know I can always rely on her.

Jean-François Richet – Director – Mutiny

"Claire strikes the perfect balance of realising the director's vision as well as bringing her own touch to the show. Not only was she resourceful but she was dedicated, passionate, talented, and professional throughout. She has an incredible eye, an excellent sense of story and script and an ability to tune into and contribute on a high level creatively to the look and feel of the series. It looks amazing and a large part of that is due to Claire and her leadership with her wonderful team."

Laura Way – Director – The Serial Killer's Wife

"I have worked with Claire on two occasions and have no hesitation when it comes to recommending her. Claire has a super team who supported both her and production very well indeed. Nothing was too much trouble and last-minute script changes, and new additions was all handled with professionalism."

Ian Locker – Line Producer
